

55th Annual CESASC Convention

Building for the Future

Saturday, April 15, 2017 | 11:00 a.m. – 9:00 p.m.

SPONSORSHIP FORM

Conference partners represent a critical aspect of the legion of people it takes to bring about real change to the science and engineering community of southern California. Sponsoring this annual CESASC event obviously helps meet the financial goals to execute a sustainable gathering for what is now the 55th year. However, it is much more than that. Sponsoring means you are personally invested in the success of the field, success of the members, and success of all those who attend. It is that level of commitment that results in the strongest relationships. The information below is how you can be a part of this dynamic experience.
